

Brian S. Russ PT DPT COMT FAAOMPT

Dr. Russ graduated with a B.S. in Physical Therapy from the University of Buffalo in 1999 and received his DPT from A.T. Still University in 2013. He graduated from the Kaiser Permanente Fellowship Program in Advanced Manual Therapy in 2004 and was granted fellowship status in AAOMPT. Dr. Russ has practiced in a variety of orthopedic settings during his 18+ year career and is a board-certified clinical specialist in orthopedics. In 2012, Dr. Russ became a full-time faculty member at Nova Southeastern University where as Assistant Professor, he teaches in the transitional and entry-level DPT programs. He is a published author, course designer, and invited lecturer, with extensive experience teaching continuing education.